

Magdalena Burtscher, MPP

Policy Analyst in the Directorate for Employment, Labour and Social Affairs at the OECD

Magdalena Burtscher, born and raised in Vorarlberg, Austria, is a policy analyst in the Directorate for Employment, Labour, and Social Affairs at the OECD. She has studied public policy at Sciences Po Paris and in her work focuses on labour markets and skills in the context of longer working lives, technological change and the green transition.

She analyses these ongoing transformations and advises governments on how to best manage them. She has co-authored several OECD publications on adult learning and skills, among them „Assessing and Anticipating Skills for the Green Transition”. Currently, she serves as an advisor to the Director of Employment, Labour, and Social Affairs at the OECD.